CHRISTIAN SCHOOL

Home Study Program

2016-2017 Handbook

NORTH KERN CHRISTIAN SCHOOL

North Kern Christian School is a ministry of the Wasco Bible Church, under the umbrella of the Mennonite Brethren Church of Shafter, whose mission is: worshipping and glorifying God; rejoicing in the love of our Savior, Jesus Christ; helping people find Christ and making them His disciples. We seek to provide a church home by accepting all in a caring and unselfish love and by encouraging spiritual growth; with God's help, meeting the spiritual, educational, and physical needs in the body, the community and the world.

PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION

North Kern Christian School (NKCS) exists primarily to assist Christian parents in fulfilling their divine responsibility to thoroughly train their children to obey God in every area of life and make them true disciples of Jesus Christ.

The ultimate purpose of NKCS is to provide quality education in a Christian environment using a Christian curriculum. Every subject is taught with the consciousness that Jesus Christ is to be central in all living and learning. The NKCS program is geared to meet the student's intellectual, spiritual and social needs.

The day-to-day procedures and assignments are intended to encourage and help students become self-reliant citizens and workers. Bible-centered curriculum leads the minds of students Godward and so can influence each student to regard Jesus Christ as the center of his or her life. Daily devotions, prayer and weekly chapel services emphasize the new birth experience and the individual's daily walk by giving each student the opportunity to grow in Christian grace and to become more Christ-like.

"As we proclaim Him, admonishing every man and teaching every man with all wisdom that we might present every man complete in Christ. And for this also I labor, striving according to His power which mightily works in me." Colossians 1:28-29

Parental authority and responsibility for a child's education come directly from God. The school is a supplementary agency, commissioned to support but not supplant, compliment but not compete with, reinforce but not replace the home. It is, therefore, important to consider parents as partners and it is also imperative that parents enrolling their children understand the motive and philosophy of NKCS. In addition, parents should be willing to sign a statement agreeing to support the school's philosophy and procedures once their child is enrolled.

OBJECTIVES

1. To develop spiritual awareness that will lead each child to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ and to help each student achieve an appropriate growth in Christian maturity.
2. To develop the individuality of the student, assisting each student to properly relate to others.
3. To develop the self-confidence, individual God-given talents and abilities in creativity, goal-setting, analysis, communication, academics and the principles of success.
4. To develop self-discipline by training students to be reverent, consistent, appreciative, responsible and thorough in attitude, character and actions.
5. To assist students in seeking their purpose for life's service and necessary preparation for eternity through emphasis upon biblical relevance.
6. To help students learn how to live to honor the Lord by meeting the daily responsibilities with which God has entrusted them.
7. To develop in each student a submissive will toward God and all others in authority.

GUIDELINES FOR SCHOOLING

SOCIAL GROWTH: A Christian atmosphere is desired and encouraged. Children shall have opportunities to cultivate friendships and to learn to appreciate wholesome, character-building habits and practices.

PHYSICAL GROWTH: Physical growth is a natural process. Each individual, however, has personal obligations to grow properly as to posture, physical development and skills. A physical education program is to provide exercise for individual and group growth, for pleasure and for general physical improvement and dexterity.

EDUCATIONAL GROWTH: Educational growth, as evidenced by a continual maturation of abilities to read, write and verbalize, to analyze and compute mathematical and scientific data, and to understand and appreciate history, art and literature, is fundamental to this program. Each parent/teacher has the responsibility to provide the curriculum and program necessary to ensure such growth. Each student has the responsibility to pursue excellence in all scholastic endeavors.

SPIRITUAL GROWTH: All other aspects of this program are ultimately intended to lead each student toward Christ-likeness. This process begins with his or her humble acceptance of Christ's gift of salvation, followed by steady growth in knowledge of God's Word. Each parent/teacher should prayerfully resolve to guide this process as mandated by Scripture.

STANDARD OF CONDUCT: We believe that "all things should be done decently and in order" and that our students should be taught to accept a given responsibility to "walk honorably before all men". Students shall be expected to act in an orderly and respectful manner, maintaining Christian standards in courtesy, kindness, language, morality and honesty. They must agree to strive toward unquestionable character in dress, conduct and attitude.

STATEMENT OF FAITH

We believe the Bible to be inspired, the only infallible and authoritative Word of God;
We believe that there is one God, eternally existent in three persons: Father, Son and Holy Ghost;

We believe in the deity of our Lord Jesus Christ, in His virgin birth, in His sinless life, in His miracles, in His vicarious and atoning death through His shed blood, in His bodily resurrection, in His ascension to the right hand of the Father, and in His personal return in power and glory.

We believe that for the salvation of lost and sinful man, a regeneration by the Holy Spirit is absolutely essential;

We believe in the creation of man by the direct act of God as recorded in the book of Genesis;

We believe in the present ministry of the Holy Spirit by whose indwelling the Christian is enabled to live a godly life;

We believe in the resurrection of both the saved and the unsaved: they that are saved unto the resurrection of life, and they that are not unto the resurrection of damnation;

We believe in the spiritual unity of believers in our Lord Jesus Christ.

VII. High School Graduation Requirements

High school graduates must meet the same requirements outlined above. In addition, they must meet the requirements for the course of study chosen by their family, as outlined below.

PATHS TO HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION

After appropriate testing and consultation with NKCS High School Academic Advisor, parents may select a suitable path to graduation for each student. Available testing includes career and interest inventories, achievement, and aptitude testing (e.g., SAT-10, ITBS, EXPLORE, PLAN, ACT, PSAT, SAT), as well as special needs diagnosis as needed.

Traditional 4-Year Path: In order to meet the requirements for this graduation path, students must study each prescribed course for a minimum of 140 hours per one-year credit, or complete the assigned textbook, depending on course requirements, and submit appropriate portfolio documentation to support the grade earned. Suitable documentation, upon approval by academic advisor, may include a final exam, written report, video or photo documentation, or, in the case of courses where there is no written coursework (i.e., physical education, work experience, music), a written verification by an instructor. The following are suggestions:

Minimum State Requirements for Public School Students

They may receive school credit for work experience with proper documentation.

California High School Proficiency Exam: Upon successful passage of both the written and multiple-choice sections of this state-administered exam, a student receives a certificate of high school proficiency from the state, and may receive a diploma of graduation from NKCS-HSP. Activity chairpersons are encouraged to find additional methods of covering costs as well, such as inviting donations, charging a fee, or asking volunteers (or everyone) to bring things.

If chairpersons and their committees wish to graciously donate the materials themselves, this will be very much appreciated by everyone involved!

Thank you for helping keep tuition low!

Appendix B

Home Study Program Attendance Guidelines

In response to numerous requests for attendance guidelines, the HSP Advisory Board has adopted the following general recommendations for conscientious schooling. (Please keep in mind that the state does not regulate attendance of private school students other than to request that records be kept; however, this could quickly change, especially if we misuse this precious privilege.)

- ☺ Your primary objective, of course, is to achieve the educational goals and objectives you set each semester. Of secondary importance, a good target for attendance is 175-180 days per school year.

- ☺ An easy way to set goals is to count the number of lessons contained in your curriculum, e.g., A Beka generally gives you 170 lessons. (Remember, though, that you should use the curriculum—don't let the curriculum dictate what's best for your child.)

- ☺ When students are sick or otherwise unable to complete their daily assignments, mark them (A)bsent on their attendance sheets. (However, if they are able to make up the work, it is not necessary to mark them absent.)

- ☺ Field Trips DO count toward school attendance, but be sure you include them in your lesson plans! (Some other documentation, such as a report or photo journal, wouldn't hurt, either.)

- ☺ The state mandates hours of school for public school ISPs—they must occur between 7 a.m. and 4 p.m. Ours aren't specified. If your student completes the work necessary to achieve the goals you've set, then he's attended school a full day.

- ☺ Set your school hours and days to coincide with public school hours as much as possible to avoid unnecessary accusations. (Remember, if someone asks questions, you need only state that the child is enrolled in a private school. Refer further questions to the school office, or to Home School Legal Defense—your attorneys.)

If you have any doubts, feel free to call one of your Advisory Board members and check it out.

Appendix C

Penalties for Late or Missed Obligations

| Infraction | Penalty |
|--|--------------------------------|
| Unexcused* missed parent/teacher meeting | $10 plus postage if necessary |
| Unexcused* missed testing | $25 plus cost of testing |
| Late paperwork | $10 plus $20 every 30 days |
| Missed Supervising Teacher conference | $25 |
| Unfulfilled parent/teacher job | $50 |

These amounts will be billed to your account.

In addition, if you signed up for a field trip for which there is a cost, you will be billed for it, regardless of whether or not you are able to make it. (Field Trip Coordinators are responsible for submitting these bills to the Treasurer.) Always check your calendar before signing up, and mark the event on your calendar right away so you won't forget!

Please Note: Payment of penalty fees does not exempt you from meeting the requirements. Continued failure to meet requirements will result in possible suspension or expulsion from the program. Additionally, no diplomas will be issued unless all educational requirements and financial obligations are current.

*Excused absences may be obtained from the Administrative Assistant within one week of the missed parent/teacher meeting. Testing fees will be charged for missed testing unless cancellation was made at least 60 days in advance.

Some deadlines may be extended. In order for a family to receive an extension, their "Request to Extend Deadline" form must be received in the NKCS-HSP office or in the "Work Turned In" file before the original deadline. If this form is handed to the Supervising Teacher or Administrative Assistant or any other person, the request may not be granted. If the requirement is not met by the extended deadline date indicated on the form, all penalties will be assessed from the original deadline.

Appendix D

North Kern Christian School Home Study Program

Eighth grade students enrolled in the on-campus school participate in an annual trip to Washington, D.C. Home study students are welcome to participate also; however, the school asks that such students plan to be involved in on-campus activities throughout the year in order to enhance their enjoyment of the trip. Home study parents are also welcome to participate in the trip and in fundraising, after meeting with the trip committee and school administration.

ELIGIBILITY FOR PARTICIPATION IN NKCS EIGHTH GRADE TRIP

NKCS eighth grade students who are consistently obedient, currently enrolled as a full-time day student, in good academic standing, and meet the fundraising requirements, are eligible to go on the eighth grade class trip, pending final approval by the administrator.

Any eighth grade student enrolled in the home study program who wishes to go on the eighth grade trip must: a) have been participating in on-campus activities at least three times a week for all of his/her eighth grade year, b) have an off-campus and on-campus record of obedience and respect for authority, c) be in good academic standing, and, d) apply in person to the NKCS administrator for permission to go on the trip.

In order for any student to be eligible to receive any of the designated "eighth grade trip money" raised by the class, he must participate in all aspects of fundraising activities. In cases where this is not practicable (late enrollment, etc.), the eighth grade students/parents and the administrator may decide to prorate funds at their discretion.

Ultimately, the responsibility for funding each student's trip rests on the parents.

Permission to grant or deny participation in the eighth grade trip is at the discretion of the administrator. To appeal a decision made by the administrator, please submit, in writing, your reasons for appealing the decision to the NKCS board.

Appendix E

CAMPUS DRESS CODE

HSP students and parents abide by the school's "Free Dress" code while on campus, while day school students are required to wear uniforms. HSP students who are enrolled in on-campus PE classes are required to wear the school's PE uniforms. A copy of the school's pertinent policies follows.

NKCS's grooming standards for both boys and girls are designed to minimize the unattractive spirit of clothes competition which seeks to draw attention to self or gender. Therefore, students are required to wear top quality, professionally made uniforms. Uniforms standardize and neutralize external appearance, while enhancing individualization of internal values.

It is incumbent upon all Christians to look their best at all times, to avoid compromising faddish or counter-culture attire, and display an element of quality Christian modesty. As Christians, we are to "show ourselves as an example of (to) those who believe" (I Tim. 4:12). We would encourage parents and all other adults who routinely come on campus to adhere to this general principle.

General Dress Code and Grooming Guidelines:

All clothing must be clean, in good repair, and well pressed. Hair should be clean and well-groomed. Hair may not be dyed an unnatural color, nor be in a faddish, extreme or excessive style. No visible tattoos or body piercings (including tongue piercing) are acceptable (other than earrings for girls).

*School uniform colors are red, white and dark (navy) blue; hence, when "blue" is referred to in this dress code, it is to be interpreted as navy blue or dark royal blue.

SHOES: Conservative shoes or tennis shoes are acceptable. No sandals, moccasins, thongs, or high heels.

LOGOS: Manufacturer's logos (pictures or words) are allowed if they are small in relationship to the garment, and are not objectionable. Any other slogans or advertisements are not acceptable.

SWEATERS, VESTS: Solid red, white, or blue*, or any combination of these colors.

JACKETS: Any style and color in good taste is acceptable.

JEWELRY: No accessory-style pins should be worn on uniforms or sweaters.

Girls Guidelines:

UNDERGARMENTS: Appropriate undergarments must be worn at all times. For modesty, all girls shall wear shorts, which are long enough to cover their underwear, under their skirts or jumpers. Sweat pants or slacks worn under the uniform are not acceptable.

SOCKS: Socks are to be worn at all times. Red, white, or blue*, or any combination thereof, of crew socks, knee socks, or tights, are appropriate. Flesh-tone nylons (no designs, glitter or seams) may be worn with socks by seventh and eighth grade girls only.

MAKEUP/NAILS: Modestly-applied, natural-looking makeup may be worn by seventh and eighth grade girls only. Nail polish may be worn; however, it must be one color only (not black). Artificial nails and nail art are not acceptable. The administration reserves the right to have students remove excessive and extreme makeup.

JEWELRY: Conservative necklaces and bracelets may be worn. One pierced or clip-on earring per ear, which does not extend below the earlobe, is the acceptable standard for girls.

Boys Guidelines:

SOCKS: Socks must be worn at all times.

GROOMING: Hair may not extend over the eyebrows, bottom of shirt collar, or below the top of the earlobe. No tails, pony tails, or designs/patterns cut into the hair are acceptable; hair must be cut in traditional, conservative styles only. Hair may not be pulled up or slicked down to fit these guidelines. Sideburns must be kept trimmed above earlobe. No other facial hair is acceptable. No makeup, jewelry (other than watch, one ring, or ID bracelet) or nail polish may be worn by boys.

P.E. UNIFORMS:

Girls and boys in fifth through eighth grades are required to wear standardized P.E. uniforms, consisting of T-shirts and shorts, during P.E. period. During the winter, solid-colored red, white or blue sweatpants (free of logos and holes) may be worn as well. These uniforms are available for purchase from the school office at the beginning of each school year.

FREE DRESS CODE:

All attire should be in keeping with the high Christian standards set forth here at North Kern Christian School. Grooming, shoe and sock guidelines remain the same as regular dress code. Since styles change from year to year, it is impossible to list every type of clothing which may or may not be acceptable; therefore, final determination as to the appropriateness of dress is up to the faculty and administration.

NOTE: This free dress code applies to HSP students and adults who are interacting with students or providing services (e.g., field trips, computer and reading volunteers, etc.), while on campus.

Girls Free Dress Guidelines:

DRESSES: Dresses, jumpers, and skirts must be of modest length.

PANTS: Girls pants, slacks, and jeans are acceptable. However, no torn or faded jeans are allowed.

TOPS: These must be long enough to cover the waistband, with modest necklines. Shirrtail blouses must be worn tucked in.

UNACCEPTABLE ATTIRE: Coveralls, overalls, shorts, cutoffs, plain white undergarment-style T-shirts (worn in place of a regular shirt), tank tops, spaghetti-strap tops, low-cut tops, sheer clothing. No advertisements, slogans or pictures inconsistent with a Christian testimony are acceptable.

Boys Free Dress Guidelines:

PANTS: Slacks, cords, or jeans are acceptable. However, no torn or faded jeans are allowed.

SHIRTS: Collared shirts or knit-type pullover shirts with sleeves are required. Shirts with tails must be worn tucked in.

UNACCEPTABLE ATTIRE: Coveralls, overalls, shorts, cutoffs, plain white undergarment T-shirts (worn in place of a regular shirt), tank tops. No advertisements, slogans or pictures inconsistent with a Christian testimony are acceptable.

Free Dress Shorts:

Although uniform shorts are acceptable for part of the year, this does not mean that shorts are necessarily acceptable for all free dress days. Uniform shorts are always acceptable for free dress days during the correct months. However, other shorts are not acceptable unless specific permission is given by the teacher or the principal.

On certain occasions, at the discretion of the principal, shorts may be appropriate attire for both boys and girls on a Recreational Free Dress Day. When this is the case, the shorts must adhere to the usual North Kern Christian School high standards regarding modesty. The shorts do not need to be dress code colors; however, they must be loose fitting, though not excessively baggy. Length, measured from the floor with a ruler while student is kneeling, must be within 0 to 4 inches above the knee.

What REALLY Counts: Developing an Eternal Perspective

One of my motivations for “homeschooling” my children was that I didn’t want them to develop the selfish world-view exhibited by the junior high students I was teaching. God used the tragic death of the most popular of those students and the sudden death of my young and healthy father a couple of months later to force me to see HIS viewpoint instead of mine.

This lesson was grueling—I so wanted to spare my kids that kind of pain! I wanted to help them “fix our eyes not on what is seen, but on what is unseen. For what is seen is temporary, but what is unseen is eternal” (II Cor. 4:18). I wanted them to see others with God’s eyes, and to see problems from His all-powerful perspective. I wanted them to fear God rather than men. Most of all, I wanted to be with them for eternity!

Dr. Dobson recently reminded me of this resolve:

“It is the illusion of permanence, you see, that distorts our perception and shapes our selfish behavior. When eternal values come in view, it becomes our greatest desire to please our Lord and influence as many others for Him as possible, beginning with our own sons, daughters, and loved ones....If we truly believe that the eternal souls of our children hang in the balance—that only by winning them for Christ can we spend eternity together with them in heaven—will we change the way each day is lived?”

Then he speaks to parents of young ones:

“I urge you to keep this biblical truth in view as you race through the days.... Don’t permit yourselves to become discouraged with the responsibilities of parenting. Yes it is an exhausting and difficult assignment, and there are times when you will feel like throwing in the towel. But I beg you to stay the course! Get on your knees before the Lord and ask daily for His strength and wisdom.... There is no more important task in living.... In the blink of an eye, you will be hugging your children good-bye and returning to an empty house. You will pause for a moment to utter a prayer that the values and lessons you’ve imparted over the years have taken root in your sons and daughters and that they will bear fruit for the kingdom for the rest of their lives.... If your children enter adulthood with a clear concept of Who God is and what He wants them to do, you will have achieved the greatest accomplishment in life.”

(Family News from Dr. James Dobson, October 2002).

I’m almost to that point. I will endeavor to instill eternal values in my kids, up to the last good-bye.

In the process, we have developed a wonderful friendship as they have joined me in the adult world. As I look back on my many years of homeschooling I have at times felt pretty smug. I have smart kids who will do well—in fact, who ARE ALREADY doing well—in the “real world.”

But “smug” is not a feeling the Lord approves. He has shown me, again and again, that He can only use us when we’re not so sure of ourselves:

“To keep me from becoming conceited... there was given me a thorn in my flesh, a messenger of Satan, to torment me. Three times I pleaded with the Lord to take it away from me. But He said to me, ‘My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness.’ Therefore I will boast all the more gladly about my weaknesses, so that Christ’s power may rest on me. That is why, for Christ’s sake, I delight in weakness-es, in insults, in hardships, in persecutions, in difficulties. For when I am weak, then I am strong” (II Cor. 12:7-10).

Yes, I’m weak. This is probably why I don’t like to set myself up as an example for others. I’ve made lots of mistakes. I’ve SINNED big time. And so have my kids. But the Lord is faithful to honor the commitment I made to Him when each of my babies was born, and that each of them individually made to Him when they accepted Him as their own personal Savior and Lord. They belong to Him, and He doesn’t make mistakes!

Now the Lord would have me share this: I can now confidently send my children out of my house into adulthood BECAUSE they belong to Him, and He loves them MORE THAN I DO! No matter how fiercely I protect them, and how fervently I guard them from the world, I am powerless to shield them from Satan’s arrows. Only when I, in complete helplessness and desperation, placed them in His all-capable hands, did I do my best for them. Only then were they safe. And only then did I become strong.

Ironically, even though I’ve realized how weak I am, I am strong now. Strong in faith. In hope. And my fierce love and protectiveness for my mostly-adult children is as strong as ever. Only now it’s not weakened by fear, or guilt. It’s powered by His almighty hand!

And my job isn’t done! As long as He leaves me here on earth, He will give me strength to do the job He has given me to do.

Who else but me has God provided to cover my children in prayer? Who else has He provided to teach them His Word and introduce them to His mighty ways? Who else has He provided to model a godly lifestyle, or to lead them in the paths of righteousness? Oh, what a glorious—and humbling—task!

Most humbling of all—who else has He provided to give them a glimpse of His love for them—unselfish, uncompromising, unrelenting, UNCONDITIONAL love? I pray that they see His love in me.

With Paul, I encourage you:

“Stand firm. Let nothing move you.

Always give yourselves fully to the work of the Lord, because you know that your labor in the Lord is not in vain” (I Cor. 15:58).

In Christ’s service,

Sandy Armstrong

Appendix G Biblical Truths for School Subjects

North Kern Christian School rejoices in the freedom we enjoy to teach truth in all subject areas from the ultimate resource text: God's Word. We believe that the Bible is authoritative in every area in which it speaks, including scientific themes as well as doctrinal issues. Therefore, in order to avoid sheltering our students from the whole truth and providing them with only a partial understanding of the subjects taught, teachers must diligently search out scriptural truth and impart it throughout the entire curriculum.

"My purpose is that they may be encouraged in heart and united in love, so that they may have the full riches of complete understanding, in order that they may know the mystery of God, namely Christ, in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge" (Colossians 2:2-3).

"Do not deceive yourselves. If any one of you thinks he is wise by the standards of this age, he should become a 'fool' so that he may become wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness in God's sight. As it is written, 'He catches the wise in their craftiness,' and again, 'The Lord knows that the thoughts of the wise are futile' " (I Corinthians 3:18-20).

"So, then, men ought to regard us as servants of Christ and as those entrusted with the secret things of God. Now it is required that those who have been given a trust must prove faithful. I care very little if I am judged by you or by any human court; indeed, I do not even judge myself. My conscience is clear, but that does not make me innocent. It is the Lord who judges me" (I Corinthians 4:1-4).

Our students' thinking is being shaped with each assignment in each course, and our mandate is to ensure that they "Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but [that they] be transformed by the renewing of [their] mind. Then [they] will be able to test and approve what God's will is—His good, pleasing and perfect will" (Romans 12:2). Our ultimate goal, after all, is to prepare them to face eternity as God's faithful servants, invited to "Come and share [their] Master's happiness" (Matthew 25:21).

In order for this kind of transformational learning to take place, both students and teachers must be engaged in solid Bible study. They need to become increasingly familiar with what it says about each subject studied. Here is a tiny sampling of scriptural foundations for certain school subjects:

Fine Arts: "I will sing to the Lord, for he is highly exalted.... The Lord is my strength and my song; he has become my salvation. He is my God and I will praise him, my father's God, and I will exalt him" (Exodus 15:1-2).

Health and Physical Education: "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God he created him...." (Genesis 1:27). "Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own; you were bought at a price. Therefore honor God with your body" (I Corinthians 6:19-20).

Language: "In the past God spoke to our forefathers through the prophets at many times and in various ways, but in these last days he has spoken to us by his Son.... We must pay more careful attention, therefore, to what we have heard..." (Hebrews 1:2, 2:1). "These things happened to them as examples and were written down as warnings for us, on whom the fulfillment of the ages has come" (I Corinthians 10:11).

Mathematics: "...God is not a God of disorder, but of peace" (I Corinthians 14:33).

Science: "But ask the animals, and they will teach you, or the birds of the air, and they will tell you; or speak to the earth, and it will teach you, or let the fish of the sea inform you. Which of all of these does not know that the hand of the Lord has done this? In his hand is the life of every creature and the breath of all mankind.... To God belong wisdom and power; counsel and understanding are his" (Job 12:7-13).

Social Science: "O my people, hear ... things from of old—what we have heard and known, what our fathers have told us. We will not hide them from their children; we will tell the next generation the praiseworthy deeds of the Lord, his power, and the wonders he has done.... Then they would put their trust in God and would not forget his deeds but would keep his commands" (Psalm 78:1-7).

Appendix H
Education Basics - What's Important?
by Sandy Armstrong

The bottom line: We have taken the responsibility for our children's education because we have realized that God is holding us alone accountable for that job. There is no one else He will trust with that responsibility—parents were created with built-in programming to care about their offspring and follow through in a way no employee could possibly imagine. “O my people, hear my teaching.... I will open my mouth in parables, I will utter hidden things, things from of old—what we have heard and known, what our fathers have told us. We will not hide them from their children; we will tell the next generation the praiseworthy deeds of the Lord, His power, and the wonders He has done. He decreed statutes for Jacob and established the law in Israel, which He commanded our forefathers to teach their children, so the next generation would know them, even the children yet to be born, and they in turn would tell their children. Then they would put their trust in God and would not forget his deeds but would keep his commands” (Psalm 78:1-7). “Fix these words of mine in your hearts and minds.... Teach them to your children, talking about them when you sit at home and when you walk along the road, when you lie down and when you get up. Write them on the doorframes of your houses and on your gates, so that your days and the days of your children may be many in the land that the Lord swore to give your forefathers, as many as the days that the heavens are above the earth” (Deut. 11:19-21).

Ultimately, we realize that the most important reason for us to teach our children is to prepare them to be citizens of heaven. “Now we know that if this earthly tent we live in is destroyed, we have a building from God, an eternal house in heaven, not built by human hands.... While we are in this tent, we groan and are burdened because we...wish to be clothed with our heavenly dwelling, so that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. Now it is God who has made us for this very purpose and has given us the Spirit as a deposit, guaranteeing what is to come.... We live by faith, not by sight” (II Cor. 5:1-7).

This motivation pervades all we do as parents and teachers. Our children's Spiritual, Physical, Mental, Emotional and Social development and future level of maturity depend upon the basics they are taught from the very beginning (and it is never too late to start!).

♥Spiritual maturity can only be attained by those who have become intimately acquainted with their Creator and Heavenly Father, and have then developed a personal dependence on their Lord and Savior.

First, children learn what their Heavenly Father is like by getting to know His representatives—their parents. We can see that children with inadequate parents may have a warped view of God from the start. But this is vital! We who know the truth are responsible to God to make sure our children can see God in us!

Natural interactions little ones have with God's creatures and creations teach them more about their Creator. Parents, encourage these encounters, using them as teaching tools to introduce your children to attributes of the Creator.

As children grow and learn to read God's Word, they can become acquainted with Him on a more intimate basis. Here again, parents play a key role in directing the search for this knowledge, and in guiding conversations which may lead to positive personal decisions based on His Word. We can see why our children's academic life is inseparably linked to their spiritual life.

♥Physical maturity involves a developing awareness of a child's own body, and of his responsibility to his Creator as far as that body is concerned. Nurturing a respect for that unique body will result in healthy habits of diet and exercise for life. With interactive parenting, it should also allow the child to understand how good stewardship of that body not only honors the Lord, but is required of Him as the real owner of all we have (for example, working diligently to maintain cleanliness in the home, to prepare nutritious food, and eventually, to provide financial support so that he can pay for his own food, clothing, and shelter).

♥Mental maturity can only happen in the mind of God. But parents can help their children begin to conform their minds to God's mind as they develop an attitude of wonder in observing God's creation all around them, as they marvel at God's design. Encourage questions and cultivate the habit of finding answers to these questions TOGETHER—nothing stifles enthusiasm faster than being told to “look it up yourself” every time he asks. Remember, Jesus said, “whoever humbles himself like this child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven” (Mat. 18:4).

Creativity is a God-given characteristic of young children, and parents need to encourage it in their children from the start, no matter how messy or inconvenient! Conventional schools tend to stifle creativity in the name of order and discipline, but we don't have to “do” conventional school! The child's creativity itself stimulates learning. Besides—what a blessing we have! In our creativity, God has given us a tiny glimpse of His own character! As we develop a sense of wonder and awe at observing God's handiwork, we will automatically cultivate the proper respect and awe due Him for His power, wisdom, intelligence, and of our utter dependence on Him. (Read Psalm 104 for an awesome picture of God!)

♥Emotional maturity is vital to your child's success as an adult. If the above aspects of his education have been cultivated, it should follow that he will have developed a deep sense of security in his place in his family, and, soon after, in his place in the heart of God. Your children need to know that they are top priority in your schedule—that you will be there for them every time they need you. You need to be their cheerleader, their confidant, their ally as they face the world. They need to be able to trust that you have their best interests at heart in all things. Guard against letting any spirit of mistrust develop—remember, their relationships with their parents build the foundation for their relationship with God. They must know that ultimately, God is their cheerleader, their confidant, and their ally, and wants the best for them. But this is less likely to happen if they haven't experienced this deep security at home first.

♥Social maturity develops naturally in a child who is becoming spiritually, physically, mentally, and emotionally mature as the Lord has planned. Children need to learn to see others as God sees them: “The Lord does not look at the things man looks at. Man looks at the outward appearance, but the Lord looks at the heart” (I Sam. 16:7). Our children need to develop God's love, compassion, and respect for each individual He has created. Here, homeschooling is practical, since the negative aspect of peer dependence is avoided. This negative and artificial dependence on popularity with peers only serves to hinder healthy social development and confidence.

Appendix I HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICY

North Kern Christian School shall strive to protect the safety and health of students in our school, as well as their families, and our staff. This health and safety policy has been developed from the guidelines recommended by the Center for Disease Control, the National Association of State Boards of Education, the California Department of Health, and the California State Board of Education.

Privacy. Pupils and staff members are not required to disclose personal health information to anyone. If information or speculation about an individual student's or staff member's health is shared with the school board or staff for the purpose of assessing potential special needs or enforcing school policies, such information is treated as highly confidential. Access to student health records and related information is available only to the school staff and to the student, or, if the student is a minor, to his parent or guardian, except as required by law.

Education. With the goals of healthful living and avoiding risks of injury, illness, and disease, North Kern Christian School will make this health and safety policy available on an annual basis and will require, as a condition of enrollment, that every parent sign a notice of receipt and agreement to follow these policies at all school activities.

Enrollment. No student will be denied enrollment in North Kern Christian School based solely upon the presence of an injury, disability, illness, or disease. However, under certain conditions (explained below under "exposure control"), a student may be excluded from participation in group activities.

School Entry Health Exam. Parents of incoming kindergarten or first grade students are required by law to submit a school entry health exam report from their physician, or to sign a waiver of the exam. This report is kept on file with the student's permanent record.

Immunizations. North Kern Christian School requires that, in accordance with state law, every student be fully immunized for the following diseases, unless a waiver based upon personal beliefs has been signed by the student's parent or guardian, or a waiver based upon medical reasons has been signed by the student's physician: 1) diphtheria; 2) haemophilus influenzae type b, except for children who have reached the age of four years and six months; 3) measles; 4) mumps, except for children who have reached the age of seven years; 5) pertussis (whooping cough), except for children who have reached the age of seven years; 6) poliomyelitis; 7) rubella; 8) tetanus; 9) hepatitis B, for all children [entering school] on or after August 1, 1997; 10) varicella (chicken pox), effective July 1, 2001, except for students already enrolled in kindergarten or above before July 1, 2001.

Parents of all students must present a written immunization record or signed waiver to be kept on file by the school within 10 days of enrollment.

Exposure Control. While no one can guarantee that no injury will ever occur nor illness or disease be contracted, the following policies are adopted for the health and safety of all students and their families.

Injury Prevention and Response

We recommend that:

- A. All parents, and students in grades nine and above, take the Basic First Aid and CPR course offered by the Red Cross.

- B. If any injury to a child occurs, the parent of the injured child should be the person to give first aid or other treatments.
- C. The Universal Precautions be followed when blood or bodily fluids are present, including the use of latex gloves by those treating the injured or ill person and by those cleaning up.
- D. All parents have and maintain a simple first aid kit, including latex gloves, bandages, band aids, and antibacterial cleaning solution. Such a kit can be kept easily in a purse or car to have available in an emergency.

Presence of Contagious Illness or Disease

Students and family members may not participate in group activities sponsored by North Kern Christian School unless they are free from contagious illness, in order to avoid exposing others. If an attendee at an event manifests symptoms of any potentially contagious disorder (e.g., severe coughing or sneezing, evidence of lice infestation, oozing open wounds, sores or rashes, etc.), or any other condition which reasonably causes health concerns among staff or parents present, that person may be asked to leave and may be excluded from attending school functions until he has demonstrated that the condition has abated or the contagious period has ended.

Notification of Exposure to Communicable Disease

Whenever the school staff has good cause to believe that a student who is not completely immunized against a particular communicable disease may have been exposed to that disease, that information shall be reported by school personnel to the student's parent and to the county's local health officer. In conjunction with the recommendation of the local health officer related to the pupil's risk of developing the disease, the school may require the exclusion of the student from school activities until the completion of the incubation period and the period of communicability of the disease.

Ongoing Medical Conditions

If a student or family member has continuing special medical needs, North Kern Christian School will make a reasonable effort to accommodate those needs. However, all accommodations will be considered by balancing the special need of the individual with the general needs of the group. A parent who is unsure whether a particular activity can accommodate specialized equipment or other special needs should ask before attending.

Administration of Medicine or Procedures

No one other than the parent or guardian of a student may administer medication or other medical procedures to that student (e.g., asthma inhalants, insulin injections, aspirin, etc.).

Parental Supervision

North Kern Christian School Home Study Program requires that a parent or guardian attend all events attended by their student(s), or designate another adult to act in their stead by the use of a signed and dated Medical Release form. In the case of an illness or condition which presents any special consideration in the event of a health emergency (e.g., diabetes, epilepsy, HIV, etc.), the parent or guardian is required to remain in close enough proximity to the student that the parent can reasonably be the first to respond and administer proper procedures for both the safety of the affected student and others.

Exclusion from Activities

No student or family member will be permanently excluded from activities hosted by North Kern Christian School Home Study Program based solely on the existence of a medical condition. If the particular condition creates a risk to others or it is a need which the school cannot accommodate without unreasonably sacrificing the benefits of the activity or the needs of others, the school staff or advisory board will meet with the parent(s) in an attempt to resolve the issue, consulting with local health officials or obtaining other medical advice if necessary, to assist in determining appropriate action. In such cases, the decision of the advisory board will be final.

Expulsion. Failure to follow these guidelines may result in immediate expulsion from North Kern Christian School Home Study Program.

Conciliation. The parties to this agreement are Christians and believe that the Bible commands them to make every effort to live at peace and to resolve disputes with each other in private or within the Christian church (see Matthew 18:15-20; I Corinthians 6:1-8). Therefore, the parties agree that any claim or dispute arising from or related to this agreement shall be settled by biblically-based mediation and, if necessary, legally binding arbitration in accordance with the Rules of Procedures for Christian Conciliation of the Institute for Christian Conciliation, a division of Peacemaker® Ministries (complete text of the Rules is available at www.HisPeace.org). Judgement upon an arbitration decision may be entered in any court otherwise having jurisdiction. The parties understand that these methods shall be the sole remedy for any controversy or claim arising out of this agreement and expressly waive their right to file a lawsuit in any civil court against one another for such disputes, except to enforce an arbitration decision.

Agreement. I have received, read, understand, and agree to abide by the North Kern Christian School Home Study Program Health and Safety Policy.
